Dear Sophie

Thank you for the Postal consultation documents received from JCRA and having met today with the Board Members of JBV, there were no areas on which they felt they could comment. Regards.

Subject: JCRA Consultation Paper on Universal Service Obligations

Further to the recent release of the JCRA Information Paper offering an overview to the forthcoming regulation of the Postal Services, and the first formal consultation paper relating to Categories of Postal Licence, Licence Fees and Application Procedure, the JCRA is today releasing its second formal consultation paper.

This paper relates to Universal Service Obligations, which enforce a minimum level of postal service that must be provided. Please find the consultation document attached. It is very important that the JCRA receive replies from a cross-section of the industry and community to help formulate regulatory policy on this key industry sector.

The Postal Services (Jersey) Law 2004 was approved by the States in March 2004. The Law is due to come fully into force on 1 May 2005 which is when regulation and licensing of the postal industry is planned to begin.

The JCRA greatly appreciate receiving any general comments you have, as well as answers or comments in response to the eight questions contained within the attached consultation. The deadline for comments is Friday 29 October 2004. We look forward to hearing your views.

Kind Regards,

Sophie Le Sueur
