

NEWS RELEASE

6 October 2016

We received Flybe's response on 30 September and Blue Island's response on 5 October. As such we have not yet had time to fully consider the responses but we are publishing the responses now as we undertook to do when issuing our open letter of 19 September 2016. The level of interest that our open letter has generated confirms just how important strong reliable air links are to the Channel Islands. We will be considering our next steps particularly carefully and have not ruled out taking formal steps under Jersey's competition law should that be the best course of action. In the meantime we will continue to engage with Blue Islands and Flybe and other stakeholders with a view to ensuring that the market works better for local consumers.

About CICRA:

The Channel Islands Competition and Regulatory Authorities or 'CICRA' is the name given to the Jersey Competition Regulatory Authority (JCRA) and the Guernsey Competition and Regulatory Authority (GCRA) (formerly the Office of Utility Regulation). The JCRA was established under the Competition Regulatory Authority (Jersey) Law, 2001, and the GCRA was established under The Guernsey Competition and Regulatory Authority Ordinance, 2012. In Jersey, the telecoms and postal sectors are regulated by the JCRA, which is also responsible for administering and enforcing the Competition (Jersey) Law 2005. In Guernsey the telecoms, postal and electricity sectors are regulated by the GCRA, which is also responsible for the administration and enforcement of the Guernsey competition law since it came into force on 1 August 2012.

By working together and sharing resources and expertise between the islands, CICRA strives to ensure that consumers in all the Channel Islands receive best value, choice and access to high quality services.
